2024-2025 (August-November Semester)

Instructors: Dr Gopikrishnan C R (coordinator), Dr Jaikrishnan J., Dr Balakumar G. P.

General instructions

Each student registered for MA 1011 must adhere to the following ethical practices in conjunction with the general rules and regulations of ethical conduct and academic integrity of Indian Institute of Technology Palakkad.

(see Rules and Regulations (2022 onwards) <https://tinyurl.com/y3dwhuz>).

- ▶ Dishonesty and cheating in any form including but not limited to the use of cheat sheet, copying in tests and other examinations (from online (AI tools (ChatGPT, CoPilot etc) included exhaustively) and offline sources), sharing answers (in part or full) with other students during quizzes and other examinations is a serious academic offence, which invites institutional disciplinary actions.
- ▶ Plagiarism is the verbatim copy of wordings, ideas, figures, graphs, charts, and other materials from another source without duly acknowledging the author/creator. While you are encouraged to participate in academic discussions, each submission to this course must be an original work by each individual. Additionally, you are expected to declare the discussions conducted including aspects such as with whom and the extent.
- ▶ Every single bit of material from an external source must be duly cited. The citations must be pinpoint. For instance, if you use a Theorem A from book B, do not just say 'Theorem A is from book B'. Give chapter, section, and exact page numbers.
- ▶ Plagiarism also includes donating your work to be copied by your friends. Note that discussions does not include lending your course materials to other peers. In the case of sharing to explain course contents, both the parties are supposed to declare this in their submissions.
- ▶ The examinations will be offline. Each student is expected to behave responsibly during the exams. No communication with other students is allowed during the exams and quizzes.
- ▶ In the event of a disciplinary violation, due process approved by the institute will be followed.
